—On Saturday Governor Stevenson appointed John M. Campbell aid-de-camp, with rank of Lieut. Col.

—The clouds indicate falling weather, but the signal service flags on the Capitol building predict the reverse.

—Capt. Pray's roan mare, valued at $300, died at Glenbrook last Friday after being ridden to Silver City and back.

—The Dutch dude of Carson was presented with a fine bouquet at the ball ground, Sunday, he having made a home run.

—The Capitol will be represented at the State Convention by Secretary of State Dornier, Controller Hallock, and Private Secretary Wells.

—The weather item elsewhere don't go. It commenced raining about one o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued for several hours. The timely moisture was more beneficial to the State than a dozen Republican and Democratic State Conventions.

—There is no danger to human life more to be dreaded than that which arises from vitiated blood. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, headache and general debility, all arise from it, and are cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take it this month. Six bottles, $5.

—Sunday's base ball game between the Amateurs and Zephyr's resulted, in a score of 19 to 14 in the former's favor.

—The Amateurs would probably have been beaten if they had not substituted a new pitcher in the latter part of the game.

STUPENDOUS PIECE OF JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE.

With the enterprise characteristic of this monarch of the Carson dailies, the management has made arrangements for the transmission by telegraph of the proceedings of the Republican State Convention.

Relays of fleet-footed Pintos will be stationed at intervals between the Court House and telegraph office at Winnemucca. They will convey the reports to electric communication as they are materialized by the corps of stenographic reporters representing the APPEAL in the convention.

At this end of the line, the champion bicyclist of the Pacific Coast will ply continuously between the lightning terminals and the editorial rooms of the leading Republican journal of the battle-born State.

Three extra elevator boys have been engaged, so there will be no possibility of delay in the conveyance of the dispatches from the ground floor to the fifth story, where they will be edited, given out in small takes to the army of awaiting compositors, thrown upon the lightning presses, and in five minutes thereafter issued in the form of extras and distributed gratuitously throughout the length and breadth of the metropolis.

With such complete and perfect arrangements for the transmission of the Convention proceedings, there is scarcely the remotest possibility that the Republican readers of the APPEAL will fail to receive the nominations in time to make up their tickets on the day of the election.

The outlay of money incident to this piece of journalistic enterprise is of course enormous. It is, however, but bread thrown upon the waters, and the management is confident that it will be returned an hundred fold to the pantry of the Carson Daily APPEAL, the subscription price of which is only eight dollars per year, payable in advance.

SWEET CHARITY.

There have been a good many sneering remarks made by Nevada newspaper men concerning the thoroughness of the editor of the APPEAL. This scribe has, perhaps, himself in the past indulged in a few unkind comments. He will never do it again—that is, except in relation to words commencing with the letters from L to S inclusive. In regard to such there can be no excuse. The office dictionary is complete between those letters, but the balance of the volume upon either side has evidently been used for wrappers for cigarettes, or perchance, for even a more ignoble purpose. We make this explanation in justice to our absent Chief, whose last official act was the placing of an item upon the copy book eulogistic of a local tailor, in which clothes was twice spelled "close" vest once with two t's and coat three times with a K.

DIED.

Last Saturday night, J. C. Campbell, an old and respected resident of Carson, died of typhoid fever.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, of which Order deceased was a member. It was largely attended considering the unfavorable state of the weather. He was 42 years of age and leaves a widow and a large number of warm personal friends to mourn his loss.

—C. Stoddard floated east with the conventional tide Sunday evening. It is rumored in political circles that the portly connubiator will not scratch Judge Leonard's name from his ticket in November, if the Winnemucca Convention should renominate that gentleman for Justice of the Supreme Court.

—The order made by the Odd Fellows and Masonic orders, making people using water at the cemetery paying in advance, is causing a great deal of kicking among those that are not in the habit of paying for the water used.

—Jack Farlong is said to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff. His friends think he can beat any Democratic opponent at least the length of his name.

—The name of F. M. Huffaker, of Storey county is prominently mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court.

POLITICAL PROPHECIES.

It is quite probable that tomorrow's APPEAL will contain the list of delegates elected, and nominations made by the Winnemucca Convention. In anticipation of the result we will hazard a prophecy concerning the selections that will be made.

For Delegates to the National Convention: S. P. Davis of Ormsby; Charles Stoddard of Washoe; Chris. Krenkel of Humboldt; Virgil Cornelius Bartlett of Elko; C. C. Wallace of Eureka and Alf Doten of Storey.

Alternates: Wm. M. Stewart of Ormsby; J. P. Jones of Storey; Christopher Columbus Powning of Washoe; M. D. Foley of Eureka; J. J. Meigs of Elko and Evan Williams of Ormsby.

For Justice of the Supreme Court Geo. W. Baker of Eureka (W. B. If it should transpire that George isn't a Republican this year, the pools are declared off on the above nomination.)

For Congressman; Hugh J. McLean, of Chautauqua.

For University Regents; The disappointed Candidates for the Supreme Judgeship.

For Presidential Electors: The unsuccessful aspirants for the Congressional nomination.

The above list was compiled by our Chief previous to his departure for Winnemucca. As he doubtless received a hunch from a letter received Sunday from the Washoe Seers, it may be relied upon as mainly correct.

Downey the Tailor.

Within a week past J. H. Downey has opened a tailoring establishment on Main street, opposite the Mint in the Corbett Block. For some years past people have been in the habit of sending abroad for fine tailor work. Mr. Downey is a regular veteran in the line of his business and we doubt if his fitting and finish can be beaten in San Francisco. His charges are also reasonable and he has already as much work as he can handle. The men who patronize him sound his praise as a tailor.

—Last Saturday the Tribune took the ground that a Justice of the Supreme Court should be a total abstinence man, while a Congressman might be permitted to lush to a moderate extent. According to the Deacon's gradation of bibulous license, nobody on the State ticket higher than Superintendent of Public Instruction should be a confirmed drunkard, and a case of genuine jim jams only tolerated in a Regent of the State University.
